GRANT IN 'FRISCO.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PARTY.

Special Dispatch to the Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Gen. Grant's old friends here are overhauling him with attention, and, as he is making new ones every minute, it is difficult to say when he will be allowed to go East. Gov. Stanford and Charles Crocker visited him this morning, and tendered him special trains for himself and friends anywhere between here and Maricao going south, and as far as Ogden going east.

Delegations from Sacramento and Petaluma, the San Francisco Produce Exchange, and other bodies, called to-day, and were well received; but the most cordial greeting was that of Governor George C. Perkins, who begged Grant on no account to defer his trip to Portland aboard the State of California on Saturday week. The State Fair of Oregon is fixed for the week following, and Perkins hinted that with the delay, the rains might interfere with the General's enjoyment. "Well," replied Grant, "I was in Oregon in 1862, and during all the dry season; in fact, it rained during eleven months of the year, and the only month it didn't rain was during the wet season. I mean to see the Columbia again, anyway; but Mrs. Grant doesn't want to put off her Yosemite trip next week. It has been the great dream of her life.

And then Senator Sherman wants us to go to his place at Belmont on the 9th of October," Gov.

Wood, who accompanied Perkins, suggested, that, if being the initial trip of the State of California, it was hoped Grant would arrange to go in; but the delegation had to leave without any definite arrangements being reached.

Meanwhile Mrs. Grant, in morning negligee, was conversing with Gen. Miller and daughter.

After leaving she dressed, and about 11:30 accompanied her husband and Mayor and Mrs.

Bryant across the street to Taylor's photographic gallery, where they were photographed.

John Russell Young afterwards complementing the party. Immediately afterwards the above party, supplemented by Supervisors Talbot, Danforth, and Gibb, started where they will lunch.

At the California Theatre great preparations are being made for the production of "The Color Guard" to-night, at the California

Theatre, and the reception of Grant's party this evening, boxes being arranged and ornamented for their occupancy. The First Regiment Band will assist on the stage, and the orchestra will perform an army quadrille, composed for the occasion by Conductor Prof.

Withers, and dedicated to Gen. Grant. At 9 o'clock this morning a line was formed at the box-office, and it is likely there will be a tremendous crush in the evening.

The General accepted an invitation to visit Virginia City about Oct. 20 on his way east. He will time his visit to Oregon so that it will take place during the State Fair, the first week in October.

AT THE THEATRE.

AN IMMENSE DEMONSTRATION.

Special Dispatch to the Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—The representation of William Grant's military spectacle, "The Color Guard," to-night, at the California

Theatre, was a grand success. The theatre, which has a seating capacity of about 2,000, was densely packed. Gen. Grant and party occupied three mezzanine boxes to the left of the stage, and were provided with

SATIN PROGRAMS.

On their entry the orchestra played "Hail to the Chief!" and between the acts, a "Welcome March," composed by William Withers, Jr., in Grant's honor, followed by Stooper's "Army Quadrille." The performance was for the benefit of the Lincoln Post No. 1

Grand Army of the Republic, and over 100 soldiers participated, Maj. E. A. Sherman, formerly of Chicago, playing the double part of Farmer Allen and Capt. Forsyth, a Union prisoner in Libby Prison, Capt. Jack Crawford played Bob Mason, the Indian scout. The troops, Federal and Confederate, were represented by the City Guard, under Capt. Dickinson, the Light Guard, under Capt. Gaylord, the Nationals, under Capt.

Templeton, and the Antirail Military, under Capt. Obermyer, fifty society ladies of San Francisco appearing in

THE FOLLOWING TABLEAU:

"Rising of the North," "Return of the Flag to Tennessee," "Victory," "The Reward," and the final picture representing "Union, Freedom, and Prosperity." The place has been played in a number of Eastern cities, and represents most vividly the battle scene in the third act, where, after skilful firing, the forces on both sides advance and retreat. The Rebel batteries being eventually captured by Union troops, the band playing the "Star Spangled Banner." The negro element enters in to the piece, thereby making an additional call upon the sympathies of the audience. The cannon used were twelve-pound

Dahlgren post-holders, mounted for field service, and came from Maryland. There was enough of the rattle and roar of war to suit the most fire-eating portion of the audience.

The First Regiment Band co-operated with the excellent effects of the scenery.

The success of the performance, the success of the entertainment reflects much credit on Gen.

Barton, manager of the California Theatre, and on Barton Hill, the acting manager.

THE GRANT PARTY.

On leaving the auditorium at a quarter before 10 o'clock, spent a short time in Gen. Barton's private room back of the box-office, where champagne and cigars were handed round. About 10 o'clock they returned to the Palace Hotel, where they were serenaded in the great courtyard by the band of the Twentieth Brigade of BURST HER BOILER.

Explosion of the Tug C. W. Parker While Off Lincoln Park.

The Captain and Three Seamen Buried into Eternity.

Sinking of the Wreck in Twenty-five Feet of Water.

Only One of the Crew Makes His Escape.

A shocking boiler explosion, involving the loss of four lives, happened yesterday morning at 9:35 o'clock on the harbor tug Charles W. Parker, of the Vessel-Owners' Towing Company's Line, on the lake, about a mile and a half opposite Lincoln Park pier, and nearly the same distance in a northerly direction from the Water Works. The explosion is described as of the most sudden and terrific character, the boiler and the boat being literally blown to atoms, and of the five men who manned the tug, but one escaped.

The explosion was heard from a distance of about half a mile, and the air was filled with a dense cloud of smoke and steam, and falling into the water, was picked up by the men on the tug, and the fire, of the same line, and which fortunately happened to be near the scene of the calamity at the time.

The victims of the disaster were Robert O'Leary, Captain; John Callahan, engineer; Peter Rogers, crewman; and William Burton, steward, all of whom are supposed to have been blown to bits, and whose bodies were never recovered. The line, however, was not broken, and the tug was towed to the pier, where the bodies were recovered.

The explosion made a noise like that of the discharge of a heavy piece of ordnance, but it did not attract the attention of many persons on shore, as it was struck at a point where the tug was not passing. The explosion was heard by the tug, and the crew were thrown about by the force of the explosion, and the tug was blown to atoms.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—Gen. Chalmers, of Mississippi, has long been called upon to express some opinion in the Chalmers case, as to the Chalmers massacre and the Grilly trial, has finally found his pen. In a published card, he takes occasion to say that the comments of the Republican press upon the Chalmers case, "most started indications as to the extent which the Republican party is prepared to go in the destruction of civil liberty."
